Clarification of CR23 with reference to B Pillars:

The word "B Pillar" as referred to in CR23 shall mean the rear-side metal pillar which forms part of the main frame structure, and is located next to the driver protecting him from side-impact as well as providing vertical strength in the event of a roll-over. The "B Pillar" runs vertically from the roof frame to the base of the frame. The word B Pillar does not refer to the fibreglass B Pillar of the body.
